STAGE SET FOR THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION BIG FOUR LEADERS WHO WILL APPEAR IN THE RACE

WOOD'S FEARS OF STEAM ROLLER STIR G. O. P. CIRCLES

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION PRELIMINARIES HAVE THREE RING FINISH.
CONFUSION REIGNS
Predictions Made That There Will Be Regular Old Time.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, June 5.—Disagreement between General Wood's managers over whether the republican national committee has been "steam rolling" his delegates has furnished the incident which was needed to wind up the republican convention preliminaries with a three ring finish.
Although Senator Moses one of the general's managers, has denounced the decisions of the committee which have seated Lowden delegates over Wood contestants as a "steam roller" procedure, General Wood himself has followed it up with a personal statement expressing confidence in the fairness of Chairman Hays and disclaiming any belief that the committee are permitting their personal preferences as to candidates to enter into the decisions which will determine the character of delegations.

First Appearance Since 1912 Steam roller talk hasn't appeared in the preliminaries since the celebrated Taft-Roosevelt contest of 1912 and it adds to the noise and confusion in which the instructed delegate so to speak, is having some difficulty in locating the bandwagon.
There are several elements which contribute to the support of predictions that it is going to be a regular old time convention. Four years ago on pre-convention Saturday everything looked pretty tame. Charles Brannan Hughes was as good as nominated although it was not generally known, and the atmosphere was placid.
Today there are a dozen little whirling eddies each loaded with possibilities of developing into cyclonic proportions.

Steady Influence Absent Many steady influences which guided the preliminaries of four years ago are absent now and a good many new elements which make for confusion are present. In the first place the majority of the delegates are uninstructed, and although, as is generally the case, a majority of them are anxious to board some hand wagon, there does not seem to be any. There are several vehicles ready to be rolled out, but the horsepower doesn't seem to be mobilized as yet and everybody seems to look to the possibilities that some of the horses may be dark. Moreover the delegates who will have to contribute the votes to nominate the candidate seem to be having little real information so far as to the starting point of the procession although they are being invited in half a dozen different directions.

No Old Time Leaders
Then there is the absence of the steady influence of the old time leaders who have hitherto been able to guide the destinies of the convention. The bosses who speak with a note of authority seem to be absent and although the incoming delegates are willing to be led they don't find any considerable party being personally conducted in any one direction.
About the only thing that everybody seems to be agreed upon is that no candidate is going to be nominated on the first ballot and from the information that leaks out from the various inner circles of the different groups it seems that all the managers are figuring on at least three ballots to find out where they stand and make up their estimates on the possibilities. The prediction of many seasoned politicians is that the convention will have its opening hurrah the complimentary votes for the favorite sons the ballots to fulfill the instructions and pledges and then the real business will begin.

May Pool Votes
If the program being talked of is carried out the leaders of the delegations from the larger states will have a conference and decide whether they will pool their votes and, returning to the convention next morning, cast them for the man about whom they have hopes of rallying enough support to command a majority. Whether he be dark horse or one of the candidates now in the field no one assumes to say, because only the preliminary balloting can determine it. But with that as a starting point the seasoned politicians are quite sure there will be little delay in getting to an agreement. It may develop that some of the candidates now in the field besides having good prospects for his own nomination, will also hold veto power which will compel the compromise managers to accept a man of whom he approves.
Senator Johnson of California is always mentioned when his probability is being discussed and none of the practical politicians denies the force of the argument.

Congress Says Too Much
There is still another element which adds to the uncertainty which promises to continue up to the time the convention begins to ballot. It is a repeatedly expressed feeling among state governors, chairmen of state delegations and others that members on congress and federal official have too much to say in convention plans and decisions. If the element will have to be recognized remains to be seen but no one here denies that there is an active agitation going on to have others take a hand in making up the program.

Last Day of Deliberations
This is the last day of the national committee's deliberations on contests among the state delegations unless something suddenly is upset and the committee will be free to take part in the conference of Sunday and Monday which will play a part in shaping the destinies of the convention. Chairman Hays is making no statement in reply to the numerous inquiries which points out to inquirers that this year the committee made it the practice in its open sessions to place upon its minutes the legal advice which he gives in each case and that its record will be available if the contests are to be discussed in the credentials committee of the floor of the convention.

PREVOST HELD GUILTY OF BROWN MURDER

Mount Clemens, Mich., June 5.— Lloyd Prevost, whose trial for the murder of J. Stanley Brown closed Friday afternoon, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by the jury Friday night.

Judge Lamb, in his charge to the jury allowed for a verdict of acquittal or first or second degree murder. After the jury had retired, Judge

Lamb, in a statement, charged that Prevost had been committed and ordered an investigation by the prosecuting authorities of the county.
Should an investigation by the prosecuting authorities prove unavailing Judge Lamb said, a grand jury should be called.

"Not in the 11 years of my experience on the circuit court bench have I ever presided over a case where there has been such an apparent effort to cover up the facts and distort the evidence as has been under way in this court since the trial commenced," before me," the court said. "It is a mere gamble of wits. It is not justice." Perhaps the most sensational evidence of the trial, which might be regarded as a basis for the judge's charges, was that of a witness who said he had been offered $1,000 by a "little lawyer" to give evidence favorable to the defendant.

"Life imprisonment at hard labor, the maximum penalty under the Michigan law, was the sentence in-posed today upon Prevost, Counsel for Prevost announced after the verdict that a new trial will be asked.

WILSON'S RELAPSE CALLED SILLY RUMOR

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Philadelphia, Pa., June 5.—It is reported that President Wilson's condition has taken a turn for the worse were denied today by Dr. Francis Dercum here. Dr. Dercum, who has frequently been called into consul-

"They are silly rumors. When I last saw the president he was in such good condition that I have discontinued my regular visits."

HOOVERHOPE IN QUARRELS OF HIS RIVALS

ONLY CANDIDATE WHO WILL NOT BE PRESENT AT THE CHICAGO
CONFLICT.

BITTER CONTEST Wood and Lowden Forces In Fierce Antagonism Over Contests.

BY STEPHEN HOLLES
Chicago, Ill., June 5.—Herbert Hoover is perhaps in many ways the biggest man in the convention. But there is no delegate instructed for him and it is extremely doubtful if he or those who are for him know whether he will get one or a dozen or no votes on the first ballot. He has an elaborate headquarters and all the outwaid machinery of the other candidates. He will, it is stated, not be present. He is an anomaly in politics. Yet he is accorded a place in the front ranks of men who command attention and who, were circumstances different, would be conceded as a formidable possibility.
It is not even being politically prophetic to say he will not be nominated. There is only one bare possibility and that is if the convention gets into a tangle he might as a sort of forlorn hope be given a commanding attention.
Hoover has friends, scores of them.
No one doubts his bigness or his fitness for the job. If the other candidates wear themselves out against the stone walls they have erected, he may come to more than slight attention. The California delegation would vote for Hoover before going to Lowden or Wood, even though the California fight was the bitterest of all Johnson's primaries. Hoover absent, out of the scramble, untouched by the money scandal, with presidential size unquestioned, is the "x" quantity in the battle of conflicting interests and opinion now starting with a barrage which has concealed the lines from opposing forces.

Outside the Bitterness
And then again Hoover, except for the few radicals from California who denounced him for getting into the Golden State primaries, is outside the barrage of bitterness. Violent tempered language arrived last night.
When the delegates from Georgia were given their seats and Lowden had won the trick the Wood managers lost control of the oil can and started so to speak a busy saw. Senator Moses himself a choleric gentleman, gave vent to the denunciation of the committee and almost everything connected with the action of contested seats. He resumed the old noise about the steam roller. Then the Wood managers quarreled among themselves. This is a part of the family row that has been on for some weeks. Hitchcock, smooth gentleman, supposed to be the most finished artist in taking care of the negro delegate, lost many of his box of tricks in the southern contests.
Therefore he became the target for Proctor's sub, assistant, and sub-assistant managers. But Hitchcock has been made field manager and floor boss by General Wood. Mr. Proctor will keep his hand on the check book in the meantime cushioning Mr. Hit-chcock's orders. Between the Wood denunciation of the committee and Lowden and Johnson, and the Johnson threats on the platform and the Lowden capture of the delegates here and there in contests, the Hoover managers are satisfied to keep quiet and let the delegates get a full stomach of the bitterness now so marked.

Delegates Will Decide
For the delegates will decide. The people have done the speaking so far as the selection of the men who are to vote is concerned, and when it was over Mr. Hoover had no delegates.
He had several hundred thousand votes and that was all. The average delegate wants to get home, and with a ten dollar a day hotel room he is apt to be thinking about home in terms of John Howard Payne's sentiments about Friday afternoon next.
He will grab any kind of a hammer to break the deadlock. Therefore the gamble of the convention. The contesting seats now settled mean little. No man received enough out of the mess to get an advantage. If anything, the odds are to Gov. Lowden's benefit. But the committee has settled one thing for the future. It has recognized definitely that the negro is a factor in nominating a president, whether he be in southern sections or not. He is to be given a fair shake and conventions and committee meetings must be held in southern places where he can be received and not in exclusive hotels where negroes are barred.

Half Votes Distributed Half votes are many. Instead of 384 delegates on the floor of the Coliseum, there will be 1060, though there will be but 384 votes. In many states there were more ambitious to satisfy than delegates required, so they used the multiplication table and divided by two. Honor was satisfied, even though a man is only half a delegate.
Women Are Numerous
Yesterday there was something said about this having no precedent as a convention. One thing that makes it so is the presence of women.
They are here in droves. It looks at the Congress Hotel; like a convention of the Daughters, or the Women's Federation. Some of them have been coming for many years.
Women have in more and more but never in numbers on the floor

COMMITTEE DENIES STEAM ROLLER IS USED IN DECISIONS

CHARGES BY MOSES IN WOOD ORGANIZATION
BRING RETORTS.

CLAIMS BIASED

Absolute Fairness and Justice Pleaded by Contest Hearers.

(By Associated Press.)
Chicago, June 5.—Probably the most important of the credentials committee, was announced by General Leonard Wood today.

"I do not know what contents will be appealed to the credentials committee," said General Wood. "But there probably will be a number of them. We are simply pursuing our right in this respect."

Asked whether he considered his statement last night on the national committee at yesterday's session a repudiation of the statement of Senator Moses, General Wood said:

"I am not repudiating anything. Senator Moses issued his statement and I issued mine. They stand as separate statements."

Chicago, June 5.—Charges of Senator Moses, New Hampshire, that the republican "steam roller" methods in deciding contests, were denied by several committee members at today's session.

Mr. McCoy, national committee member from the Philippines, brought up the Moses charges and said he was a Wood supporter, denounced Senator Moses' statement as "absolutely unwarranted."

National Committee member Highland of West Virginia, who also said he is for Wood, made similar statements.

Wood is Unprejudiced.
Neither General Wood nor Colonel William C. Procter, his campaign manager, support charges of Senator Moses of New Hampshire that the national committee has used "steam roller" methods in its contest decisions, Mr. McCoy declared.

In calling the Moses charges, Mr. McCoy said he resented them and added:

"The vote of this committee on every case has been on the rights and justice, and not tinged by any personal preference as to candidates. There is no basis for Senator Moses' statement. It is unwarranted and is his own personal opinion and is not the opinion either of General Wood or Colonel Procter."

McCoy said he had been urging General Wood's nomination for more than a year and would continue his support, but deplored the Moses charge.

Chairman Hays did not join in the discussion except to interject that there appeared to be "perfect harmony" in the committee.

Chairman Hays was defended by National Committee member McGraw of Oklahoma, who said no one questioned Mr. Hays' fairness, honesty, and integrity.

"Must Be Great Man."
National Committee member Jean, New Jersey, interjected that "General Wood must be a great man because his friends can make so many mistakes."

That "there have been no sinister or personal motives" in the committee's decision was asserted by National Committee member Stanley, Kansas, another Wood partisan.

The committee also was defended by National Committee member Ely, Ohio, who pointed out that the committee's decisions had been unanimous except in five cases. He denounced "criticism from an outsider who never heard the cases."

Work Defends Committee.
National Committee member Work of Colorado also came to the committee's defense, and was reported that in these piping times of prohibition to see such a statement from a United States senator.

The roll of the committee's decisions to date was read by Secretary Miller to show the unanimous agreements, and National Committee member Parsons of New York pointed out that in the disputed Georgia case all district contests were settled unanimously.

GET 30 DAYS FOR ILLEGAL FISHING

Pleading guilty to selling in the Cache river within 200 feet of the Fulton dam, Albert Bill and S. Creek, were sentenced to 30 days in the county jail today by Judge H. L. Medford. They caught and sold their lines of $50 and costs, each.

They were arrested by Game Warden Andrew Sampson.

DRAFT SLACKERS, UNLESS RUNAWAYS, ARE NOW SAFE

Washington, D. C., June 5.—Slackers who did not register under the first draft call in June, 1917, or having registered, failed to report for service before the draft boards, will be exempt from apprehension after today unless they left the home country and are now in Germany, Russia, or other foreign countries. Justice to whom the statute of limitations "does not apply."

No Working for Wood.
Colonel Green was called to tell what he knew about the selection of delegates from Texas to the republican national convention. He said he had contributed money to the "mixed" faction of black and white republicans in Texas but denied that he was working for General Wood or any other presidential candidate.

Chairman Kenyon announced that $25,000 of the Wood campaign, Alfred J. Greenbaum, treasurer of the Hiram Johnson campaign, and several organizations in California and Missouri, had not responded to committee summons.

Interested in Fight.
Colonel Green told the committee he had gotten interested in a "fight" between what he called the regular republicans and the "lily white group."

"I was a regular," he said, "and was elected as a delegate to the national convention." Declaring that three sets of Texas delegates were in Chicago, the witness said that "if they had had more time they would have split some more."

JOHNSON LEADS IN THE BETTING ON WALL STREET

New York, June 5.—New York bet on anything and take a gamble on any chance. Just now it is the National convention result. Yesterday in the pools at the hotels and in the lower financial district around Wall and Broad street, Johnson led with even money being placed on his small army, running from $100 to $500, are reported as being wagered. Thursday's odds on Johnson were 2 to 1, according to a representative of James W. Bell & Co.

The betting centered chiefly around Johnson and Wood. Odds are quoted as 2 to 1 that Wood would not get the nomination against 2 to 1 Thursday; Lowden, 5 to 1, against 3 to 1 Thursday; Hoover, 4 to 1, against 5 to 1, and Coolidge, 8 to 1, against 12 to 1 Thursday. "Dark horses" are being quoted from 15 to 1 to 10 to 1.

Little interest is being manifested in the Democratic nomination. Odds of 6 to 5, compared with 8 to 5 Thursday, and Edwards, 2 to 1, against 3 to 1 Thursday. While the odds in Broad street made Johnson the favorite in the presidential betting, in other parts of the financial district being 2 to 1 against his receiving the nomination. Odds on Hoover were 8 to 1, Coolidge 8 to 1, Wood 2 1/2 to 1, Hughes 8 to 1, Knox 10 to 1, and Harding 6 to 1.

POTATOES HIT
HIGHEST PRICE
EVER KNOWN

Chicago, June 5.—Potatoes today reached their highest price in the history of the country. It was reported by the federal bureau of markets after new potatoes had advanced 2 to 3 cents a bushel over yesterday's figures, and old potatoes had moved up 70 to 75 cents.

New potatoes sold here today at $1.15 a hundredweight, which figures around $7.20 a bushel. One car of old potatoes sold at $3.25 a hundredweight, the highest rate of $6.75 to $7 a bushel.

The principal reason for prices reaching this peak, according to the bureau of markets, is that this happens to be an interim period between production sections coming into the market. The highest previous price of potatoes on record here is $3.50 to $4 a bushel for old stock in the early spring of 1917.

CARNIVAL MAY SHOW
AT SO. JANESVILLE

The World's Fair carnival will pitch its stakes for the Janesville Monday, unless before that time representatives are able to secure a license to show in the city.

We are going to try to get the unanimous consent of the license committee but if we fail we'll show in a vacant lot near Dietz's old hotel at South Janesville, an advance agent of the carnival said today. We'll save the $300 city license fee in that way.

INDIAN TABLET IS UNVEILED AT FORT

Indian Effigy Preserved, Crowds Attend Unusual Ceremony.

Fort Atkinson, June 5.—Elaborate preparations have been made for the unveiling of the intaglio effigy at the Indian mound near here this afternoon, under the auspices of the local chapter of the D. A. R. Providers were well in hand for caring for one of the largest crowds in this city for many years, many out-of-town people having sighted their intention of attending the ceremony.

One of 17 mounds of a group of 17 conical mounds and effigy mounds located on the bank of the Rock river on the highway leading from Ft. Atkinson to Lake Monona, known as the "Indian Mound," is associated with it. Several of these mounds had been explored and broken pottery vessels and stone implements found with the human bones which they contained. Surrounding the mounds is an Indian village site from which numerous stone and other implements have been collected.

The so-called intaglio effigy is in the shape of a huge panther, an animal form also referred to as "water spirit." It is the reverse of the usual effigy mounds being dug out of the surface of the soil instead of erected upon it. Its total length is about 120 feet, the long tapering tail being much longer than the body. The greatest width of the body is 30 feet and the greatest depth of the same is about 3 feet.

This intaglio is now the only existing example of this particular type of prehistoric aboriginal monument in the state of Wisconsin. W. D. James has been appointed general master of ceremonies for the day. Chief Hansen has been appointed as head of the parking and traffic committee. R. T. Hunter has been appointed head of the car and reception committee. Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. J. C. Cole, Mrs. Frank Hoffman and Miss Effie Porter have also been appointed on this committee to meet the incoming guests at the table. Provide Plenty of Chairs! Carrol Downing has been appointed chairman of the chair committee who will, with the assistance of W. C. Bartlett, Emanuel Bros. and others see that the chairs are properly placed.

The members of the D. A. R. Chapter all labored for the success of this entertainment. Aside from the general committee mentioned, Mrs. Inez Cornish and Mrs. R. T. Hunter have charge of the carrying of the participants in the program and Mrs. R. C. Morris is assisting Mrs. Ivey with the music. Miss Gibson has charge of the dancing.

Factories to Close. Many of the various manufacturing plants have consented to close Saturday afternoon to enable their employees to attend. The entertainment provided by Mrs. Main is symbolic of the custom of aboriginal predecessors. The river pageant, in which Indians, French traders and Jesuit missionaries will float down the river in canoes is only one feature of it. This, together with the addresses, Indian songs and dances and other tribal ceremonies will provide the entertainment.

Hot coffee will be served to those who wish to bring their supper. The general committee is composed of Mrs. Herbert Main, Miss Carrie J. Smith, Mrs. W. R. Ivey, Miss Mary Jones and Mrs. J. F. Schreiner.

FAULTY TONSILS AND TEETH PREDOMINATE IN COUNTY SCHOOLS

During the month just closed, Miss Anna Luetscher, county nurse, visited 24 county schools inspecting 397 pupils. Of these, 282 children were found to have the following defects: teeth, 143; tonsils, 122; eyes, 9; vision, 41; hearing, 7; nasal breathing, 23; speech, 7; glands, 102; skin, 17; bones, 2; pox, 1; lungs, 1; nerves, 3; and anemia, 2. Three of the 282 children were thought to be in such a defective condition as to be excluded from school. Miss Luetscher sent 143 notices to other parents of their children's defects. Three days were spent by the nurse talking to women's clubs and the training school. She addressed the women's club at Edgerton; talked on health work with the training school and had interviews with all the students; made arrangements for the pupils of the Beloit and Edgerton schools to make health posters for the state exhibit; and spent a day at Evansville inspecting the nutrition class. She reports only a small amount of physical exercises is being done in the country schools.

FARMERS ARE RAISING BEETS TO COMBAT SUGAR SHORTAGE

(By Associated Press.) Oshkosh.—Farmers of Winnebago county are taking measures this year to combat the high price and scarcity of sugar by raising their own sugar. Nearly every farmer in the county who has sufficient land is growing at least one acre of sugar beets. These he will sell to the sugar factories and besides getting good money for his crop will be entitled to take in part payment as much sugar as he and his family will need until next year. It is estimated by the county agricultural agent, Gustav Sell, that one acre will average about 10 tons of beets and produce approximately 3 tons of sugar. Farmers of the county are hard hit by the labor shortage and some are offering workers as high as $100 a month, board, room and washing thrown in. As a result of this scarcity, more land is being seeded to grain as it requires less care than sugar beets. The corn is up, two inches, but is later than usual, due to the backward spring.

Voice of the People

Editor Gazette: It is easy enough to be patriotic when the bands are playing, and the soldiers are marching by with Old Glory floating serenely in the breeze. It is easy enough to be loyal to our country when the enemy approaches our own home, but as has been evidenced in the past few years, it sometimes takes considerable education and propaganda to work up loyalty, patriotism, and loyalty when the enemy are so far away that we think they cannot reach us. Loyalty to our country is one of the greatest and most valuable attributes of man, but loyalty can be narrowed down from the great country at large to our state, to our city, and still have a place of business. We should be loyal to the business from which we get our daily bread. We should stand by it through any crisis which may confront it; for in the analysis, he who is loyal to his home and to his business is bound to be loyal to his country.

lose a cent. Your salary now will more than pay the rent. The above lines we know you would like to read. In this great land of the free: Where Liberty still holds her own. And tells all radicals to stay at home. In headlines broad and glaring. To warn every anarchist who is daring. To bring to our fair shores. The blood and crimes of Europe's half closed doors. And we would also crave To halt every crook and knave Who in the broad day-light Takes your money and your right. And leaves you hungry and without a bite. Janesville, June 4, 1920. B. H.

Editor Gazette: I see the complaint to the Mayor and Common Council of the City of Janesville regarding the use of the sidewalk for roller-skates and coaster-wagons was "laid on the table." I would like to know how the gentlemen know the majority of people are willing to concede the privileges to the roller-skaters. Had a vote been taken on it? Was a vote taken to see if the people wanted the Washington school grounds put as public play grounds? Were they asked if their money was used for some one to teach the children to play at with? Ever they do teach I am sure I don't know what it is. Every where people are complaining of the noise of the roller-skates and coaster-wagons, but I seem to be the only one who has the courage to expose myself. Only one day last week a friend of mine was on the street with her two small children. She said she didn't know where to go to avoid a coaster-wagon or bicycle. A man said I guess you will have to walk in the road. Nice state of affairs, isn't it? Another thing I would like to ask the play-grounds are to be used for ball games and all kinds of noise. Sundays. Some of us have been brought up to look upon Sunday as a day to be kept vacant, not a day for all kinds of noise and disturbance. Ella S. Croft.

OLD RINK ATTIC GUTTED BY FIRE

Loss $500—Two Other Blazes, One at Fifield Lumber Company Planing Mill.

Four fires, one yesterday afternoon, and three today did damage to the building, flames damaged the attic of the old rink building on South River street, owned by C. W. Richards, of the extent of $500, fully covered by insurance. Only prompt arrival of the department and quick work of the firemen in getting the work of the firemen stretched saved the main wooden building.

Mr. Richards sent a check to Chief Murphy this morning for $5 in appreciation of the quick and efficient work of the department.

Main East Headway

When the fire started, the flames spread along the roof, and along the ceiling and roof, and the fire spread rapidly in the attic for a distance of 150 feet.

Forty automobiles were in the garage at the time. Attempts were made to get them out, but these were halted when fire broke out. The firemen cleared for the cars. The machines were not damaged. Holes had to be cut in the wooden floor, to let water run out which had gathered in pools six inches deep.

$100 Loss at Residences

Sparks from a stove in the summer kitchen at the residence of Mrs. Emma Link, 627 Chatham street at 7:50 this morning did damage to the extent of $100, mostly by smoke and water and covered by insurance. The blaze was confined to the kitchen and was extinguished with one stream. Miss J. Davies is the owner of the house.

After smelling smoke all morning, employees at the Fifield Lumber Company's planing mill, 702 S. High street, discovered flames in a pile of shavings at 9 o'clock today. The fire is believed to have originated from heat from a boiler room adjoining. It did $75 damage. The barn of Mrs. Mary Ford was slightly burned.

One hundred dollars damage was done shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon to the roof of the home of Mrs. George Barker, 702 S. High street, when sparks from a paper fire in the stove fell on the shingles.

ALLEY CLEAN-UP IS URGED BY NEW BOARD

As a result of an investigation of the downtown alleys made by Health Officer, F. B. Welch during the past week, the health commission has organized a board of health. It is hoped to take the steps toward a clean-up of alleys. Dr. Welch states that public and private alleys of the downtown district are in bad shape and that the city and county regulate only the public alleys.

"The greatest offenders of public health," stated Dr. Welch, "are the narrow alleys which are filthy, especially garbage in the back alleys."

Members of the new board are Dr. Welch, Joseph M. Connors, R. H. Ellis, and Harry Garbutt.

PAYS $17.40 FINE FOR FAST DRIVING

GLASSCO URGES WAR AGAINST CUTWORMS; SUGGESTS FORMULA

Cutworms are playing havoc with soil-corn in Rock county according to reports received by T. J. Glasco, county agent. In the last few days, especially after several days of dark and rainy weather, the pests have been cutting off the young corn.

Requests for formulas in combating the insects have been coming in rapidly to the agent. He declared there is only one successful method of treatment and gives the following, which he recommends be used at once. He further urges farmers, even if they have not yet been troubled by the worm, to look over their corn.

The remedy is poisoned bran bait made by thoroughly mixing 50 pounds of bran, 2 pounds of Paris Green and 5 finely chopped lemons. The mixture should be stirred with a fork until the bran is moist and then diluted with enough water to mix well with the bran. This should be scattered sparingly in small jumps around bases of plants and over the entire field.

Grassland, says Mr. Glasco, is most liable to infestation by cutworms and if infested for corn or other crops should be plowed the preceding summer to destroy the grass as a breeding place for the worms. About midsummer the fullgrown worms burrow into the ground to pupate. The moths lay their eggs on lower leaves of grass. The young worms feed on the grass until fall and in the spring they come out of the ground and attack almost any young plants they find at the surface. They feed at night, cutting off the stems close above the roots, and hide away in the day. Later in the season they climb the stalks at night and feed on the leaves.

One man who used the formula recommended by Mr. Glasco found 120 dead cutworms in a square rod.

CHOIR BOY WINS FIRST PLACE IN MUSIC CONTEST

Conrad Kneip, Washington school, carried off first honors in the first of the music memory contest held yesterday. He was awarded a $25 prize.

In addition prizes were awarded to each grade participating, as follows: Eighth grade, first, Norma Looft; second, Adams school; second, Aloisius school; third, Aloisius school; fourth, St. Patrick's; seventh grade—first, Katherine Denning, St. Patrick's; second, Ruth Viney, Garfield; third, Marion Kaufman, St. Patrick's; sixth grade—first, Norma Sullivan; second, Helen Riedel; and third, Leo Croake; all of St. Patrick's; fifth grade—first, Charlotte Gaffey; second, Charles Ashley; and third, Charlotte Kaufman; all of Washington.

In order to make the contest more difficult for the 17 fighting out the tie for first place, only one bar was played of each piece of music. The little tenor boy, a member of Trinity Episcopal church choir, excelled all others in naming the selections. Children named as participants: Charles Gaffey, second, Charles Ashley; and third, Charlotte Kaufman; all of Washington.

MAYOR WANTS MAIN OPEN FOR TRAFFIC

A hope of opening up for traffic the west side of South Main street in front of the site for the new high school was expressed today by Mayor T. E. Welsh, who said he will make efforts to have the contractors, Ford & Boos, finish up the foundation as soon as possible.

"The main idea," he said, "is to remove those piles of gravel which have been standing in the street for nearly a year. While we cannot hope to build any more of the high school than the foundation this year, the work ought to be finished up now."

WOMAN DROPS DEAD ON MILWAUKEE ST.

While walking on West Milwaukee street at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Catherine Zienow, 74 years of age, of 318 S. Jackson street, dropped dead in front of the Reliable Drug store on the corner of South Jackson street. Heart failure is said to be the cause. Rev. J. A. Meirose, pastor of the Federated Methodist church, of which she was a member, was with her at the time.

The body was taken into the store where attempts were made to revive her. Mrs. Zienow was born in Germany in 1846, coming to this city when she was six years old. On November 25, 1867, she married Martin Zienow. Two children were born, a son Frank, now dead, and Mrs. F. J. Seidmore, with whom she made her home.

She is survived by a brother, Andrew Eillon, town of Rock; and four sisters, Mrs. M. E. Grand, Grand Rapids; Mrs. P. P. Plabikow, Berlin, Wis.; Mrs. E. Tracy, town of Rock; and Mrs. J. L. Sennett, Beloit.

HOWITZER ARRIVES AFTER LONG DELAY

The seven-inch howitzer, of the type used by the American army in the recent war, has arrived in Janesville after several weeks in transit from the Rock Island arsenal. It was unloaded this afternoon from the freight car in which it came. The men and taken to the rear of the city hall, where it will be kept until consignment at that place is made.

"The logical place for it is in the court house park near the soldiers' monument, but it is up to the council to decide where to put it," Mayor Welsh said today.

The cannon is a gift to the city from the government. The only obligation on the city is payment of freight charges. Congressman John Ford E. Raudenbush made the securing of it possible.

DEFER ACTION ON CELEBRATION TO MEETING, MONDAY

The pros and cons of a celebration in Janesville on July Fourth, a gala event to cost $5,000 with a revival of the old Norse-epoch "Brawl" circus parade, free vaudeville, industrial and automobile parades and fire works in the evening, or a quiet observance of the day with a patriotic parade in the morning, a speaker, and a ball game during the afternoon—were discussed by the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their weekly meeting yesterday afternoon.

General sentiment pointed to the directors favoring the first as indicative of the public would participate were plans laid accordingly. To settle the matter it was decided to wait the annual meeting to be held Monday night and to receive from the expected big gathering of members just what should be done and what individuals would do to make the day a big success.

Should the plans carry the chamber is prepared to tout other matters to concentrate effort on the celebration.

ARSON CASES SET FOR NEXT WEEK

Williams Up for Trial Wednesday—Bellman's Hearing, Friday.

Arraigned in municipal court today on a charge of arson in the nighttime, J. S. Williams waived his preliminary examination and was bound over for trial in the same court at 10 o'clock next Wednesday morning. He was remanded to the county jail in default of $1,000 bail.

His partner, Edward Bellman, whom he implicates in his confession of setting fire to their garage in Evansville, May 27, entered a plea of not guilty to the same charge and demanded an examination which was set for 10 o'clock, Friday morning. His bail was fixed at $500. Arrangements were made whereby Bellman was allowed to return to Evansville in custody of Chief Fred Gilman to obtain bond after his arrival there.

"It's False," Bellman

Williams was quiet and reserved in court today. He manifested a desire to plead guilty. Bellman insists he is not guilty of having laid the fire. "It's false, it's false," he was heard to mutter today.

Shermer to Testify

District Attorney S. G. Dunwiddie asked that Williams' case be settled first so that he may be used as the chief witness in the case against Bellman.

Chief Gilman and L. M. Shearer, deputy state fire marshal who claims to have secured a confession from Williams, will be here Wednesday and Friday to offer testimony in each case.

THE VETO OF THE SUR TAX.
The governor will have support generally in his veto of the bill to raise the $1,000,000 voted for the university and the normal schools. The principle in the bill providing for raising the necessary sum voted by a sur tax on incomes is bad.
It was, as the governor states, held to be constitutional in the case of the experiment in levying a sur tax for the payment of the soldier bonus.
However the argument of the government may be taken, the strong point is that incomes taxed necessarily do not give a fixed sum in revenue or one on which the state can always rely. It is changeable and unstable. Then, too, the sur tax is one which aims to tax again things already taxed and is a burden, which, however much we may think to the contrary, is eventually paid by the public as the buyer of things productive of the income taxed.
It would have been wiser if the advocates of the sur tax who by implication were opposed to the increase in the revenue for the purpose named, had defeated the bill appropriating the funds without attempting to dodge the mill tax.
As it stands today we have provided that an appropriation shall be made for a given purpose and by the veto of the governor there is no provision for carrying out the act. Therefore it will be necessary to call a meeting of the emergency committee and see that the fund is raised from monies already in the treasury.

KEEPING OUT UNDESIRABLE SHOWS.
The city of Janesville owes a rising vote of thanks to the city council for the adoption of the new license ordinance in reference to amusements.
It will serve to keep out a great many of the undesirable shows and those organizations under the guise of amusements which are a thin veil for gambling and other questionable activities. Under the present ordinance the license committee of the council or the council itself must license the show. Heretofore anyone paying the fee and asking for a license was entitled to one and the city clerk, the issuing officer, had no alternative but to comply.
There should be a censorship of a sharp character on shows applying for a license. Their regulation should be looked into carefully. To make it possible for some scrutiny of this kind the council has acted with wisdom in passing the ordinance now on the city statute books.

Hungary's signature to the treaty of peace is another step in the diplomatic ending of the war.
It is a drastic peace, and as Hungary is a distressed and impoverished nation it will not be to the advantage of the allied nations other than a complete restoration of the commercial relations.
The United States is still at war with Hungary, and is at a decided disadvantage in the reestablish-ment of a large trade which we have long enjoyed with the Hungarians. That is one of the penalties we pay for failure of the legislative and executive branches of the government to co-ordinate.

In providing a summer camp for the boys of Janesville the Rotary club has again called attention to the practical things in the way of service to which that organization is devoted. No matter how nearly next door we are to the country and outdoor life, the youth of the city are not always able to take advantage of them. It needs some organized effort like that of the Rotary club to give the real benefit of a summer camp to the boys. It is an example that can well be followed by others.

Under the ruling of the supreme court of Florida there is no republican party in that state, the vote having fallen below the necessary number to qualify. But the republicans elect eight delegates and have quarrels and contests and take up the time of the committee. There are about as many votes in the state of Florida for the republicans as there are in Rock county. The injustice to the republicans of the north is apparent.

With Chicago sending its gunmen to the gallows as fast as they can be tried and the "shoot to kill" order in force so far as the thieves and stick-up men are concerned, the smaller cities in the neighborhood will undoubtedly be visited by these undesirables. It is well, therefore, to exercise the greatest vigilance and any suspicious characters, here or in the neighboring towns should be reported to the police promptly.

Suffrage has been finally and definitely defeated in Delaware, and it will be necessary for some other state to take action in favor of the ratification of the amendment if women are permitted to participate in the fall, in the election of a president this fall. Delaware has written its name on the tablets of unprogressiveness in ineffable letters.

The unveiling of the tablet at the intaglio of the aborigines of America, at Ft. Atkinson today, is an event of more than ordinary interest.
Preservation of these remarkable relics of a prehistoric race who once inhabited the valley of the Rock river, is worth more than passing notice.

Here's one woman who says she is contented to let her husband run the politics for the family.
We wonder at her temerity right there, in Chicago, too.

With the bolsheviks in Persia and the same crew in Armenia we have a lot to be thankful for even with a national convention on our hands.

Greenwich Village

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.
New York, June 5.—An inconvenient thing about living in New York is that, sooner or later, everybody you have ever met comes here and expects you personally to conduct them through Greenwich Village.
They will attempt anything else alone, single-handed, but when it comes to touring Bohemia they want a guide who knows the ropes. In vain you may protest that there are no ropes to know; that all the village thrills disappeared with the enforcement of prohibition, and that now nothing is left but soggy food and stale atmosphere at high prices. Your friends from home know better.
It is useless to try to convince them that they are laboring under a popular delusion in supposing that there is real wild-eyed genius wandering about Washington Square for any casual tourist to marvel at. The only thrills playing and singing something about people growing old, and so, of course, you have to capitulate and take them down to West Fourth Street just to show you are young and sprightly whether you look it or not.
And the worst of it is, you know by bitter experience that it takes a young and sprightly digestion to get by with the dinners served by the village Bohemians.
Bitter experience, we repeat, because nearly every resident of New York has suffered from "village fever" at some time in his life. The visitor always gets it when he first arrives here. He is fascinated by the tales he has heard of the picturesque, care-free life of the village, and he takes just about a month of bad food and plumbing to make the would-be Bohemian see the error of his ways. Then he puts the few dollars he has left in a secure, bourgeois bank, and moves uptown.

Greenwich Village, once inhabited by many art celebrities, as well as by members of the best of New York families, is now a complete over-run by commercial artists and by intellectual hoboes, who think that because they know a Cezanne or a Cortot when they see it that they should be pensioned by the rest of unrecognized mankind. Of these latter, many are obviously psychopathic cases. As one old frame-maker of the village puts it: "You want to have a nut-cracker handy when you meet them."
The hotels, apartment houses and boarding houses in the vicinity of the Square are no longer patronized by struggling painters and poets, but by prosperous designers of millinery, women's wear, popular song writers and successful businessmen. Brokers, Y. M. C. A. secretaries and insurance clerks occupy most of the rooms on the north side of the Square. These newcomers, while interested in maintaining the artistic atmosphere of this quaint, old section of New York, have practically succeeded in running it by selling a tremendous industry in values. These days of the village's prosperity, you may pay as much for a room with one gas jet and a fireplace by way of heat as you do for two rooms containing all the modern conveniences in the neighborhood of Columbia university.

Thus, the majority of the old inhabitants have been forced to move out, no longer being able to afford the inflated atmosphere. The popular conception that artists and writers are a dreamy, visionary lot who care nothing for worldly goods and are easily imposed upon is one of the most absurd fallacies ever created. As a matter of fact, they have just as regularly and as hard-working and they usually possess shrewd business judgment in managing their own affairs. It was a group of artists who started the first successful cooperative housing scheme in New York, and it was a group of artists who first conceived the economical scheme of hiring cooks on the cooperative plan. That is, the cook for two or three students. So when prices started going up in the village, the artists and writers of real merit were the first to leave. With the exception of a few notables who are left, including Harry Kemp, Philip Moeller, Art Moss and occasionally Theodore Dreiser, most of the old residents have followed the lead of Joseph Hedgesheimer and moved to quiet Bohemias of their own, like Chester, Pa.

"The rabble that have invaded this district in the last five years have no more to do with a legitimate Bohemia of art, science, letters, or thought than next year's prunes have to do with this year's booze," declared one of the old residents, who is now contemplating moving, the other day. "They are recruited from the slums of literature and art and the gutter and the gutter Berlitz. They are not even good sports. They spend their lives whining for quarters and handouts. And the worst of it is, they give the rest of the country, and even New York, the impression that they are the real art atmosphere of the village."

It was in one of the village cafes that he thur-underbided himself, cautioning his visitor not to mention his name at the night club he was in and tapped on the skull by one of the victims of his fraud. We turned triumphantly to our companion, a young man from the Middle West who had insisted upon our escorting him to the village; but his gaze was fixed upon a man who was entering the low, yellow-painted cafe. The man's head was large and roundly shaped, his hair drooped over his soft, worn collar, and his clothes were faded and shapeless. His eyes traveled vacantly over the crude wooden chairs and tables of the room, all occupied by uptown tourists and served by a woman in a brilliant orange smock. At last, he saw the vacant seat at our table, and he moved seaward into it, putting a faded manuscript case on the floor by his chair, and immediately assuming a pose of utter dejection, his long, pointed chin resting on a flat, skinny wrist. In this position he surveyed us mournfully.

"Ah, I see that you are strangers in our midst, are you not?" he said sadly. (The painter whose grandmother had been a belle in the village had nudged us under the table). "May I not extend you a welcome? I see, we have sweet potatoes this evening—how refreshing after a fatiguing day with one's pencil. I wonder if you would be interested in this little work of mine while waiting for your dessert."
He drew from his faded manuscript case a few sheets containing weird pen and ink drawings and text in mimeograph form. At the top of the first page was the head, "The Village Gossip; A Daily Newspaper and Otherwise." He handed it to our friend from the Middle West, who accepted it in thrilled silence.
"I am really a psychiatrist," continued the long-haired guest in the same sad voice, "but this is just a part of my epistol which I feel that I should share with understanding friends. I do not sell it to everybody, only those who are in affinity with my soul."
"We looked over our companion's shoulder and read. It was a knocked around like a stepchild. I wonder what it is that causes people, real people, too, to make themselves filthy with putrid ideas and lies about my own consequential personality."
"Hm, paranoias," murmured our painter friend.

"See, I told you there were some real ones down here," said our middle western friend, as he walked proudly out with several sheets of the "Village Gossip" for which he had paid seventy-five cents. "You New Yorkers never know anything about your own town."
Here's a Fish Story of Interest.
Attention! Fish June 5.—What is believed to be the record trout in weight if not in length ever taken out of a running stream in Pennsylvania was caught by Dr. Charles E. Milson of Catawqua in Little Trough Creek at Bogert's Bridge, two miles west of this city. The trout was 27 inches long, 7 inches wide, and weighed 9 pounds and 30 ounces. Dr. Milson landed the fish with a split bamboo, rod weighing only five and one-half ounces. The battle lasted only 15 minutes.

JUST FOLKS

I AIN'T DEAD YET.
Time was I used to worry and I'd sit around and sigh.
And think with every ache I got that I was goin' to die.
I'd see disaster comin' from a dozen different ways.
An' prophesy calamity an' dark and dreary days.
But I've come to this conclusion, that it's foolishness to fret.
I've had my share o' sickness, but I Ain't
Dead.
Yet!
Wet springs have come to grieve me an' I've grumbled at the show.
But I can't recall a June-time that forgot to bring the flowers.
I've had my business troubles, and looked failure in the face.
But the crumpled I expected, seemed to pass right by the place.
So I'm takin' life more calmly, pleased with everything I get.
An' not over-hurt by losses, coz I Ain't
Dead.
Yet!
I've feared a thousand failures an' a thousand deaths I've died,
I've had things could in ruins by the gloom I've prophesied.
But the sun shines out this mornin' an' the skies above are blue,
An' with all my grief an' trouble, I have something to live on through.
There may be new aches before me, much like those that I have met.
Death will come some day an' take me, but I Ain't
Dead.
Yet!

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.
After looking for a house,
Then an apartment,
Then a good barn,
Then a garage,
Then a second-hand tent,
Or anything we could rent,
We heard from a friend of ours
That some people were living In box cars.
Being fitted up in a Very comfortable manner,
With one window
necess and smokestack
And everything.
So we started out
Looking for a box car.
And we looked along all
The railroads that run Through our town.
But found every box car
Was already full of Household furniture
Belonging to some one else.
Now we are looking for a
For a used submarine.
When that fails
We are going to load the family
On a motorcycle and just Keep on riding.

THIS DATE IS HISTORY.
Ninety-eight years ago the cigar store Indian was born to fulfill his mission in front of a tobacco shop in Philadelphia. After receiving seventy-one coats of paint he passed up this life at the age of ninety-one, mourned by a large circle of friends and relatives. He was one of the few Indians in this country who wouldn't trade his birthright for a mess of fire-water.
The overall campaign is now an all over campaign.
Kid McCoy has been married seven times. But the average man shouldn't think anybody can do it. The Kid, it will be remembered, was a prize fighter and one of the best dodgers in the profession.

Senator Joseph I. France goes to the Chicago

Joseph I. France was

He served in the Maryland state senate, 1900-

1905; elected to United States senate in 1916.

Chicago, June 5.—The close of the Republican National Convention to be held in the Coliseum here, finds quite a number of delegates wandering aimlessly about takin' in the picture

Q. Where is the center of population in the United States? R. N.
A. According to the 1910 census, the center of population was in Bloomington, Ind., but figures to date of the 1920 census indicate that the population center of the country is moving eastward.
Q. Is there an airplane service to Alaska? U. S. C.
A. This project is under consideration, and work of mapping aerial routes between Seattle and Alaska has been started.
Q. Why did soldiers in the World War lose more right arms and right legs than left ones? H. B.
A. A logical theory is that when the troops were in actual combat, the right hand was used for the weapon, and the left hand was used to hold the weapon. A shell exploding in front of them would kill right arm, and a shell exploding behind them would kill left arm. The right side of the body exposed to a greater degree.
Q. What was the added parliament? G. E. C.
A. This was the name given to the second parliament of James I. of England, 1614, because it did not produce a single statute. Its members were chosen at a contested election, the first in many years, and which was the last meeting of the parliament. It was composed of about 300, were elected for the first time. The session of this parliament lasted but two months, being dissolved by the king.
Q. What general was in command of the confederate forces at the Battle of New Orleans? W. A. R.
A. This battle was fought in April, 1862, and Maj. Gen. Mansfield Lowell was in command of the confederate forces.
Q. What nationality was Hans Christian Andersen? A. M. P.
A. This writer was a Dane. He was known as "The Children's Poet," but his "best poetry is his prose."
Q. What was the Malthusian doctrine? L. G. C.
A. This was a theory held by a Rev. T. R. Malthus who was born in 1768 and died in 1834. He held that population tends to multiply faster than its means of subsistence can be made to do, and that when this occurs the lower or weaker classes must suffer from lack of food, that unless an increase of population be checked by prudential restraint, poverty, disease, and starvation will be the result. The population will be checked by poverty, vice,
or some other cause of suffering.

"Salaries and Wages"
Out of every dollar paid out by the average telephone company for the expense of making the service it sells, around 60¢ (or more) goes to its employees for salaries and wages!
Telephone employees are no more immune from the "high cost of living" than any other people. Unless their pay can be made com-pensurate with present living costs, an experimented organization cannot be maintained —and your telephone service will suffer in consequence.
But remember that the responsibility for the wages it pays does not rest solely upon the telephone company, for the company can pay no more than its income will allow—and its income depends upon the rates it is permitted to charge for the service it has to sell.

The Strange Case of Cavendish

"Cause this is Lacy's ballwick, an' that ain't no man knows this country better'n he does. Then, why should Partridge an' him ever be here? Unless there was a fact? They must have come for something; that lawyer ain't here on no minin' deal; an' no more. Beaten, an' no more. Round town for a month doin' nuthin' but drinkin' whiskey. The whole blame outfit is right here in Haskell, an' they wouldn't be it this wasn't a fact. That's good common sense, ain't it? What made yer ask me 'bout Pussalot Stenches this mornin'?" You don't hold the Mexican up with this affair, do yer?"

"Sadie told me she heard Enright speak of him at breakfast, that was all she heard, just the name."

"Sadie? Oh, the red-headed waitress at Timmons, you mean. Sis Tim's girl?"

"Yes, she was the one who saw Miss Donovan forced into the wagon, an' driven off."

"An' they took the old Shoshone trail past Hennessey's ranch?"

"So she described it. Does that mean anything?"

Brennan did not answer at once, sitting silent, his brows wrinkled, staring through a crevasse of the rock up the stream. Finally, he groined into the anxious face of the other.

"Danged if I know," he said drawlingly. "Maybe it does, an' maybe it don't. I was sorter puttin' this an' that together. I never got hold of any proof, but Lacy has shipped a pile o' cattle out o' Villa Real, although they're across the desert instead o' shippin' them here in Haskell or Taylorville. I never could understand that. That's the principal reason he got for thinkin' he an' Mendez are in cahoots, an' if they be, then the Mexican must have some kind o' camp out there in the sand whar he hides his bad men; though, damn if I know what it can be." He paused reflectively. "I'll be hauled, but I reckon you an' I'll have to get out that way, an' we might have luck enough to stumble onto the old devil."

Westcott changed his position, inadvertently bringing his head above the protection of the rock. Instantly there was a sharp report, an' a speeding bullet grazed his hair, flattening out against the stone. The rapidity with which he ducked caused the marks to laugh.

"Not hurt, are you? No. That was a rifle. Mike isn't such a bad shot with that weapon. He's over there behind that tree, an' he's smokin'." If behind the tree pokes his head out, I'll try the virtue of this 45; it ought to carry that far. Hah! there he is! I made the bark by, say, say."

The afternoon wore away slowly, the two men realizing more and more the clearly the nature of the siege. Their only safety lay in the protection of the rocks, as they were now entirely surrounded, and fired upon from either bank the moment either raised a head. No attempt was made, however, to assault their position, nor did they often return the fire, desiring to preserve their ammunition. Brennan remained watchful, but silent, brooding over his plans for the night, but Westcott became overpowered by fatigue, an' slept quietly for several hours.

The sun was already sinking behind the rugged mountains when he finally awoke himself, and sat up. Brennan greeted him with a good-natured grin.

"Well, do you feel better, Jim?" he asked pleasantly. "Thought I'd let you sleep as long as I could, for we've got some job ahead of us. Sorry that ain't no breakfast water, fer I wouldn't object to a bit o' harm done myself. I reckon if Lacy cops me up much longer he's liable to win his bet; I'm plumb near starved out already."

"I'm afraid they've got us Dan," he said. "Oh, I don't know, leastwise I ain't put up no white flag yet. You'll name for a try at gettin' out o' here, an' I'll be right with you. I've sorted been reckonin' on yer."

"I'll take any chance there is," returned Westcott, looking at the other's face. Have you some plan?"

"Maybe 'tain't that exactly, but I've been doin' it a power o' time, thinkin' since you was asleep. Jim, I reckon you might beat these fellows with a fair show o' luck. This is how I figure it out. They've got a bunch o' rifles, an' a cinch. Lacy knows we can shoot, an' he also knows we're marooned yer without food. The easiest thing is ter starve us out."

"But there are good men in this camp, law-abidin' men," interrupted the other. "Won't they take a hand?"

"Maybe they might if I was free ter get 'em together; but I ain't. Most o' 'em are out in the mines, anyway. They don't know nothin' 'bout it. Right in this camp, an' they ain't got no leader. Lacy runs the town, an' he's got a big rank o' toughs behind him. There ain't no body wants to buck up against his name. Of course the boys might get mad after a while, but I reckon we'd starve plumb to death long afore that happened. An' that ain't the worst of it, Jim—the sheriff's Lacy's man. I wouldn't never dare turn over ter him, an' I wouldn't pull one off on him, an' start the minute it gets dark enough so them lads can't see what's goin' on out yere."

"We'll figure out a way through."

"Not a fight, my son; we'll make it so softly that not a son-o-f-a-gun will ever know how it happened. When they wake up, we'll be down, an' they'll be in the desert, an' still goin' on. There's a big log clingin' ter the upper end o' the rock. I saw it when I first come over, an' I put an' an' ago I crept back through the gully, an' took a good look. A shove will send it floatin'. An' with a good pair o' legs ter steer with, that ain't nuthin' ter stop it this side the curb, an' I don't calculate any o' the rifle brigades will be down as far as that. It sounds blame good ter me, Jim; what d'ye say?"

Westcott's hand went out, and the fingers of the two men clasped silently. There was no need for more speech; they understood each other. The night closed down swiftly, as it does in the West, the purple of the hills becoming black as though by some magic. There was a heavy cloud hanging in the Western sky, constantly hanging higher in pledge of a dark night. The banks of the stream became obscured, and finally vanished altogether, while the water ceased to glimmer and turned to an inky blackness. Lights twinkled in the distant shacks, and the front of the Red Dog burst into illumination. Brennan chuckled and pointed his finger at the glare.

"Lacy ain't forgettin' the profit in all this," he whispered hoarsely. "The boys are goin' ter be dry, an' he'll sell 'em all they want—wouldn't mind if I had some myself. Is it dark enough, mate?"

"The sooner the better!"

"That's my ticket. Come on then, but don't make a sound; them lads are more liable to hear an' they are to see us. Let me go first."

The log was at the other end of the little island, but there was a considerable rift in the rock surface, not deep, but of sufficient width to permit the passage of a body. The jagged stone made the way rough in the dark, and Westcott found himself at the upper extremity, gasped and bruised by the contact.

Dinner Stories.

Here are a few examples of current European humor: of Christiania: "Karikaturen" of Christiania: Absent-minded Professor (half-way through the service) thought there was something wrong. This is not the girl I want to marry."

Another from "Karkaturen": He (affectionately): "You are far too good for me." She (absent-mindedly): "I know it. But you were the best I could get."

From "Tyrlhans" of Christiania: A teacher wished to visit the mother of one of her pupils. The tenebrous was a fairly long walk.

From the "World" of London: "Do you believe that awful story about Mrs. Surbiton-Jones?" She—"Yes, what is it?"

Also from the "World": Apologetic Guest (meeting hostess on street): "By Jove!—oh, I completely forgot you'd put last Thursday's Mrs. de Bluff—er—awfully sorry."

Hostess—"Oh! Weren't you there?"

Old Kentucky Feud Is Settled by World War Louisville, Ky.—The world was having instrumental in settling a minor but long continued Kentucky feud.

Many years ago a number of young men from Stanford, Lincoln county, clashed at a dance with a party of young men from Laurel and it grew into a feud. It was handed down to successive generations. Lines were so tightly drawn that a young man who left the confines of his home county usually was set upon and mauled by the young men from the other county.

Finally came the World war. Young men from both counties entered the training camps and some saw service in the trenches of France. Eventually, the war won, they joined parts of the American Legion, ancient grudges were buried and members of both posts agreed to observe Memorial Day with joint ceremonies.

Camp Custer Designated As R. O. T. C. Training Post Battle Creek, Mich.—Camp Custer has been designated as the infantry post for the Reserve Officers Training Corps of the Central department, according to orders received by Col. J. P. O'Neill assigning him to command of the student officers for their summer training course.

Preparations are being made at the camp for housing and training 3,500 cadets. Those eligible for summer training course are all members of the reserve, in the central department, who have received training in school or college under authorized instructors.

FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

The All Round Girl Red Cheeks and Pep

What Shall I Be? Answered for Boys

VACATION IS COMING

By Mollie Price Cook

Did you ever see a girl traveling with so many bags and bundles that she could not manage them all herself? Of course you have! It is not only burdensome, it is foolish.

Pierance Marsh was that sort of a girl. When she left for her summer vacation she was laden with unnecessary baggage. She carried a trunk and a suitcase, a hat, a sweater, a cold cream for sun-burned skin, a small first-aid kit for cuts and bruises, a sewing case, pins, stationery, postage stamps,

Over one-third of the United States is a howling desert. This is a startling statement, but, judging on the basis that food-producing crops need at least twenty inches of annual rainfall, the desert area is nearer one-half than one-third. It ought to be irrigated but a large part of it can gradually be condition by a system of drainage. There is, therefore, in this field, an opportunity for irrigation. Expert for the fellow who wants to go out, and do big things for his country and also for the home-loving chap who wants to stay in his own neighborhood and benefit that. There are few careers which give a bigger opportunity for a man to be a benefactor to his own times and to the generation to follow him.

Caesar Too Busy in Mars To Answer Any Messages Bucharest, June 5.—A wave of spiritualistic seances is sweeping over Rumania and some of the mediums claim to have received extraordinary "messages." One reported that an attempt to communicate with the spirit of Julius Caesar had failed because he was "commanding and governing in Mars and therefore out of reach."

New York.—Francis Wilson, retiring president of the Actors' Equity association, urged refusal to give benefit performances for the Methodist Episcopal church until it repealed "blue laws" forbidding theater attendance.

On the other side of the picture, in Canada and the United States there are over 40,000,000 acres which need draining. From the Atlantic to the Pacific, there is a great cry for experts in irrigation.

One the moment look at the question in a smaller way. Every city has to work out its drainage and waterworks systems, and every food farmer knows that some of his fields have got to be kept in good soil condition enough to permit wearing woolen socks next to the feet—the heavier the better.

A cloth bag or two is a wonderful addition in packing, as the bags can be hung on nails or on a tree, and will hold your clothes for overnight camping, your bathing suit, or your hairbrush and extra toilet articles. Go after your vacation hard. Plan every detail well before you begin it.

Some paper towels or napkins, and a bar of soap inside of an oil cloth bag to carry on tramps.

The vacation girl's bathing suit should be made of wool, and if possible, knitted. Some sort of bathing slippers or shoes are necessary. The girl's hair can always be kept dry if she wears two tight-fitting bathing caps, one placed behind her ears, and the second rubber band cap set over the ears to keep the water out of them. A third cap of some fancy design is nice to have for good looks.

Dress for the occasion. Tennis shoes should never be worn for hiking. Hiking shoes should have broad toes and low heels and be big brought under irrigation projects. At the present time there are 45,000,000 acres which are immediately available for reclaiming. This means homes for 10,000,000 people, as a single acre can support 100 people.

The U. S. Reclamation Service undertakes big irrigation projects and has a demand for irrigation engineers at the time. But aside from that, there are many private projects which need men for this marvelous work of reclaiming the desert.

Samson Ball and Sportsmen's Meet Feature Week-End

FIELD DAY WILL DRAW HUNDREDS

Artificial Bait, Silver Loving Cup and Cash Among Prizes Offered—Koshkonong the Place.

Five thousand targets are up at Lake Koshkonong waiting for the sportsmen to arrive tomorrow. That sounds like business. What says Stanley Pierce said today that it is only a starter for what the boys may expect when they reach his target to join in the First Annual Field Day of the Rock County Game Protective Association.

Big Crowd Going
Clare Briggs ought to be among the bunch tomorrow for he would get all the day he wants for lots of "days of real sport" carterons. There will be countless numbers of the outdoor enthusiasts of the county gathering from this city, Beloit.

Don't forget if you have an auto and are going to have an extra seat or two to phone Charles Snyder, 12 N. River street in case some fellow is out of luck for transportation. Likewise if you want to go and have no way of getting there, phone Charles.

Edgerton, Evansville, and many other places with their picnic and families in one great big picnic. Competition is bound to be keen in the events. J. C. Road got back from his wanderings for prizes last night and here's what he got:

Good Prize List
Beautiful artificial bait for the bait casting events donated by representatives of several sporting goods houses, who promise to be among "those present." Silver cup in the trap shooting contest donated by George Olin of Janesville.
Fine game bird pictures in trap shooting contest donated by J. C. Road.
25 rifle shot—cash prizes.
The gang from Beloit will gather at the Hilton Hotel at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning with their autos and arrive in Janesville about 8 o'clock. Some one from the Gateway City said over the phone today that there will be a string of autos 10 miles long, which while it may be a little strong, shows the spirit in which the fellows down there are entering into the idea.
Between 50 and 100 men with their families plan to go from here. They will wait for the Beloit bus to come up and then the "parade" will wind its way to Charley Bluff for the festivities. Picnic lunches are the order of the day.

RAILS AND CRESCENTS AT LAKE TOMORROW

With Pire back in the box, the St. Paul Rail will again the Milton Crescents at Charley Bluff, Lake Koshkonong, tomorrow afternoon. The game promises to be fast to draw good crowd. Pire is going in the shape.
Manager McCullough said that the bunch will meet at 12 o'clock at the Milton Crescents and make the trip in the Myers hotel bus. The lineup:
Gregory, Pire and Carroll, battery; News, 1b; McGintley, 2b; E. Condon, 3b; Carroll and Echeman, ss; Griffin, rf; W. Condon and C. Willis, lf; Sweeney, cf.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS WILL BE GUESTS OF MILTON COLLEGE

Milton, June 5.—An intercollegiate baseball game, a Shakespearean play and an outdoor luncheon are some of the good things in store for high school seniors of Janesville and other towns and cities in southern Wisconsin who visit Milton college on Saturday, June 5. The seniors will be guests of the college regardless of whether or not they are planning to continue their education here.

The feature of the afternoon will be the baseball game between Milton and Beloit, to which all high school visitors will be admitted free. In the evening the "ant-freshmen" will be guests of honor at the annual Shakespearean play, "The Taming of the Shrew," presented by Milton students in the college gymnasium-auditorium. Two graduates of Janesville high school—Herbert Kalkstein and Milton Walsh—are included in the cast of this play, which is the biggest dramatic event of the year at Milton. One section of seats in the center of the house has been reserved for the visiting students.

Although no definite plans for an outdoor entertainment have been made by the Sub-Freshman day committee, the Milton freshmen are planning to give an impromptu vaudeville show on the athletic field after the baseball game. There will also be a luncheon served by the college.

Personal invitations to visit Milton college on Sub-Freshman day have been sent to all high school seniors of Janesville, Brodhead, Edgerton, Lake Geneva, Milton, Milton Junction, Palmyra, and other neighboring towns. High school visitors who are unable to return home Tuesday evening will be entertained in the homes of Milton students, professors and townspeople.

NEW YORK TO BEAT LONDON AS LARGEST CITY IN THE WORLD

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington.—Indications are that when the New York City census is announced it will show a total population larger than the last available figures for London. The race for largest city in the world will be undecided until London's official census of 1921 is announced.

While no official information has been given as to the growth of New York during the last 10 years, as will be shown by the enumeration made in January, estimates of the city proper place the total population at about 6,700,000 and for the metropolitan district of New York, consisting of 10 miles from its boundaries, at about 8,200,000. These estimates are computed on the Census Bureau's method of arithmetic progression shown by experience to be nearer in accuracy in the majority of cases than any other formula.

London's population, according to the latest available statistics which are estimates for 1917, give the population for registration London the London for census purposes, as 4,025,501 and for Greater London, comprising the city and metropolitan police districts and covering a radius of 15 miles from Charing Cross, as 6,276,153.

BEAUTIFUL HOMES AND PLANS, DESIGN No. 685

Design No. 685. This semi-bungalow is 22 by 24 feet, exclusive of the garage. While this is a very practical lake home, it is also a most practical style for a city residence, the only change necessary for a city residence would be to devote the small chamber on the second floor for a bathroom. The exterior is very practical and economical in construction. Magnesian stucco is used from grade to belt course. Shingles are used on the side gables and roof. The interior arrangement is very unique, considering the floor area, the large living room with a fireplace in the center produces a beautiful effect. A very convenient feature of this plan is the garage which is made a part of the house. The entry from the hall is a very much desired feature, especially during inclement weather. The cost of this garage is considerably less than the amount required to erect a separate one. The finish on the first floor can be fir, birch or oak, stained old English. The second floor can be finished in fir or birch, white enamel, with doors stained mahogany. Hot water or hot air can be used for heating.

"BEAUTIFUL HOMES AND PLAN BOOK"—A marvelous work of art in four colors, containing 64 pages of strictly modern architecture of BUNGALOWS, SEMI-BUNGALOWS and HOUSES, with complete floor plans shown on a large scale can be obtained through information at this office

The Economy COMBINATION DOOR

As its name implies, the ECONOMY DOOR is an economical door, being in reality a combination of doors. It gives you two doors in one—a screen door in summer and a storm door in winter. Unlike the single screen or storm door, the ECONOMY DOOR when once hung need not be taken down and changed. Merely turning the two ingenious buttons at the top permits either the storm or screen sash to be removed.

In addition to convenience in operation, the ECONOMY DOOR is very economical in cost. A door that will give utmost satisfaction in Design, Material and Workmanship.

We also are prepared to furnish window screens and door screens in all stock sizes promptly.

Permit us to quote you on your requirements.

liminary period are like harvest days on the farm. Everything needs to be done and done at once if the crop is to be saved and all hands are at it from sun up. If a politician of any account on the ground here gets five hours of sleep out of the 24 he is counted a lazy man. When he isn't fighting off friends looking for convention tickets he is hunting for delegates for his favorite candidate. If he has any real ideas of what is going to happen he is keeping them strictly to himself and the probabilities are that if he disclosed them he would be accounted more an enthusiast than a prophet.

Push Is Needed.
For nearly a week now things have been shuffling up to a point when only a push is required to start them off. The national committee in its daily sessions was really the only part of the political machinery doing any work. All the other politicians on the scene are holding conventions in the hotel lobbies and making nominating speeches to any crowd that is willing to listen. With the steady arrival of men who bear the responsibility of leadership something more than gossip will begin to develop from now on.

Several full delegations and numerous fragments of others were scheduled to roll in today. Among them were the California and Nevada delegations in the "Golden Poplars Special" named from the quantities of California's flower kept on ice for distribution here.

Big Influx Sunday.
The big influx of delegates and visitors is expected tomorrow and Monday. Railroad officials say they are being taxed for equipment because of the extra sleepers and diners needed to carry the crowds. Chilly weather is a surprise, welcome or otherwise, to most of the newcomers. "Cool convention weather" has been the rule for several days with more in immediate prospect. Some of the Texas and other southern delegates are complaining because they came unprepared for the low temperatures.

Washington, D. C., June 5.—Word of the adjournment of the session of both houses of Congress has made a mistake in deciding to adjourn for the remainder of the summer and autumn and leaving untouched plenty of business for the executive is something that will be thrust out in the political campaign but certainly the Republicans have played into the hands of the White House in betaking themselves from the national capital and leaving the President free from embarrassing questions and vexatious "Populist" bills, as proposals are called that are merely put up to a President to be vetoed.

CONJECTURE AS TO FUTURE

To have stayed in session, it was

Radical and Conservative

The decision to adjourn was not without embarrassment to the public who were expecting the Senate to take on more and more a definite cleavage between conservatives and radicals. The latter are in the minority but they combine with the Democrats and cause trouble. The radical Republicans, for instance, wanted Congress to stay in session and take steps to curbing expenditures. The Democrats are anxious to have the campaign under perpetual investigation believing that the bulk of the money has been collected or will be collected by the Republicans. But the conservative Republicans have had enough troubles with their radical minority. Senator Lodge has had his hands full in the beginning keeping the Republican party together in the Senate. Considering the fact that he has had only a margin of two or three votes to carry the Massachusetts leader can look retrospectively with a good deal of satisfaction, for in most instances he kept the party together.

contended by some conservatives, might have meant a loss of control by Senator Lodge and his leadership in the radical Republicans should be disappointed by the Republican National Convention either in the selection of a candidate or the drafting of a platform. The party platform, the capacity of the radical Republicans for political mischief inside the ranks is less with Congress in adjournment than in session.

Campaign Is On

Taken all in all, the adjournment of Congress means that both parties have suspended public business for the next months and that the Presidential and Congressional campaign of 1920, has begun in earnest. American foreign policy remains unchanged and the only change in the November elections is known. Domestic legislation, especially the much-talked-of changes in the tax laws and the much mooted soldier bonus have all been left to the hands of the President. The deadlock which has existed since November 1918, between the executive and legislative branches of our government.

To have stayed in session, it was

Radical and Conservative

The decision to adjourn was not without embarrassment to the public who were expecting the Senate to take on more and more a definite cleavage between conservatives and radicals. The latter are in the minority but they combine with the Democrats and cause trouble. The radical Republicans, for instance, wanted Congress to stay in session and take steps to curbing expenditures. The Democrats are anxious to have the campaign under perpetual investigation believing that the bulk of the money has been collected or will be collected by the Republicans. But the conservative Republicans have had enough troubles with their radical minority. Senator Lodge has had his hands full in the beginning keeping the Republican party together in the Senate. Considering the fact that he has had only a margin of two or three votes to carry the Massachusetts leader can look retrospectively with a good deal of satisfaction, for in most instances he kept the party together.

WHILE it is universally admitted that the CROW ELKHART is of great beauty in design and unequalled in performance, we wish to make an announcement to prospective buyers that they may have better data for comparison. We name a few of the other cars of known merit using the same high grade units in their construction.

AXLES—"Salsbury"—used on Grant, Elcar, Commonwealth, and Olympian.
SPRINGS—"Standard"—used on Cadillac, Apperson, Mercer, Winton and Paige.
UNIVERSAL JOINTS—"Thermoid Hardy Frictionless" used on Franklin, Lexington, Mercer, Studebaker and Reo.

FRAMES—"Parrish and Bingham" used on Cadillac, Mercer, National, Premier and Haynes.

STEERING GEAR—"Detwiler" used on the Moon, Pilot and Elcar.

CLUTCH—"Borg and Beck" used on McFarland, Haynes, Franklin, Premier and Paige.

DIFFERENTIAL GEARS—"Warner" used on Apperson, Cadillac, Hudson, Paige and Nash.
